⭕ Complete Unified Communications experience in an intranet environment

IPBRICK.CAFE is the Enterprise Social Network that will improve the way your organizations communicate, making them more productive. Fully integrated with IPBRICK unified communications - Voice, Video, Email and Chat - and presenting them in a simplified way, IPBRICK.CAFE is a private and secure space of business communications that unifies and streamlines access to all information, enhancing the exchange of knowledge, documents, task and contacts management between employees.

The portal is divided into different areas: Communications and Applicational - allowing users to access a range of information and resources that are now spread across several subsystems, ensuring a smooth and unified communication.

- Management of multi-channel presence, allowing you to see user's availability across various services: Voice, Video, Email and Chat

- News / information area
- View and share documents from the Document Management and Workflow System: iPortalDoc

- Social area with space for messages to the global organization
- Account and user profile management

- Develop surveys to measure how employees feel about a certain subject
- Links to all applications with a single Sign-On system

With IPBRICK.CAFE your company will communicate in an agile, quick and effective way with all your employees!
